Fast Facts

We produce some of the finest non-heatset products in the industry

Since we began production of USA TODAY in 1988, Gannett Offset/Atlanta has been recognized as one of the finest non-heatset printing facilities in the south. In addition to printing "The Nation's Newspaper", the plant produces many other high quality four-color products for local, regional and national customers. We've got the experience, dedication and a customer-oriented staff that make us the perfect print/production partner for publishers, retailers and organizations who are seeking the highest quality non-heatset products.
